

Void Property Security

A property becoming vacant does not take the responsibility for that property from the owner.

Our advanced wireless alarms are entirely stand-alone with a long-life battery and on-board tamper detection. They are usually installed in tandem with our sensors, both internal and external to your property. This provides instant detection and alerting on a range of incidents including intruders and flooding. Our alarms can also be paired with pressure mats and door sensors, providing our customers with the most advanced security solutions on the market
