

Security Response Services

For your temporary security needs, Securitas is ready to respond

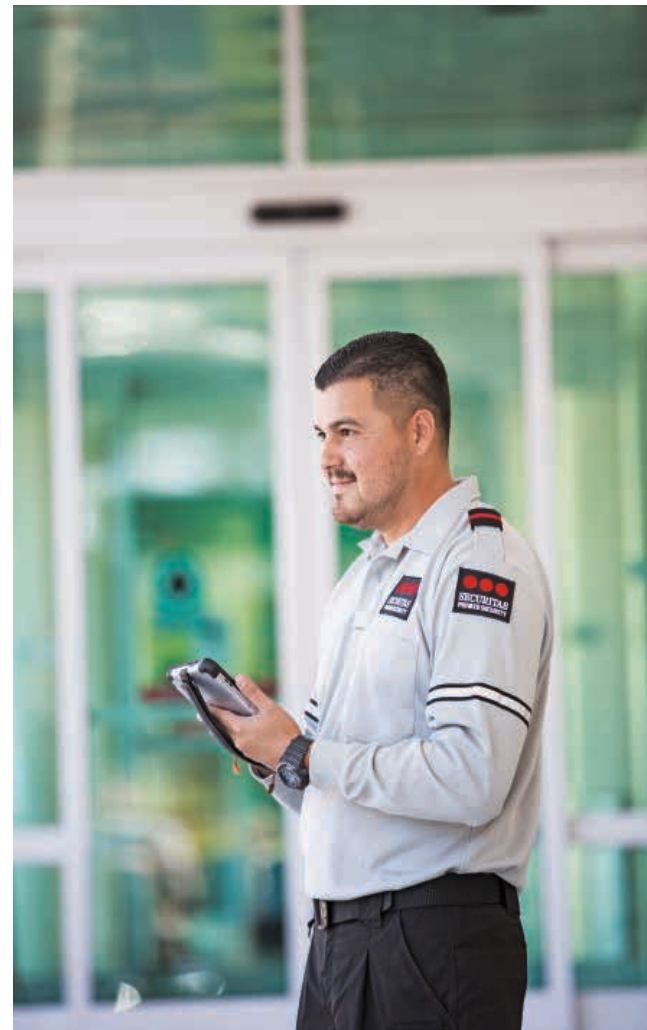

Whether you are managing a large-scale construction project that requires temporary security, or you need an emergency response to handle faulty access control equipment, security needs can arise somewhat unexpectedly. You need a security provider that can respond quickly, communicate readily, and treat you like an everyday client.

The Securitas Security Response Services (SRS)* team is the number one source for on-demand security services, providing temporary services to businesses large and small. With the largest North American footprint and dedicated administrative staff, the Security Response Services team can provide efficient security service, whenever and wherever your business needs security in North America. From short-term construction projects to sudden work stoppages, Securitas has you covered.

We provide security response services for a variety of situations and site types.

These include:

- Retail stores
- Bank branches and ATMs
- Warehouses
- Construction projects
- High rise buildings
- Special events at hotels and entertainment venues
- Damaged buildings after natural disasters
- Truck terminals
- Alarm failures
- Medical treatment and care facilities
- Petrochemical/chemical pipelines and storage areas
- Parking lots
- Layoffs, terminations or work stoppages

“
In the business of protecting people, property, premises, and profits, you must operate with integrity, transparency, and accountability. When unforeseen events occur that challenge our ability to operate and resiliency is a must, we call on a trusted and ready partner. For us, Securitas is the right choice, with the right resources to reduce our risk and help retain our ability to sustain our business goals and objectives.

Director of Corporate Security and Business Continuity - Ferguson Enterprises, Inc.

”

* The Securitas Security Response Services team will be comprised of employees from Securitas USA or Securitas Canada, wherever the service is needed.

For your temporary security needs, Securitas is ready to respond

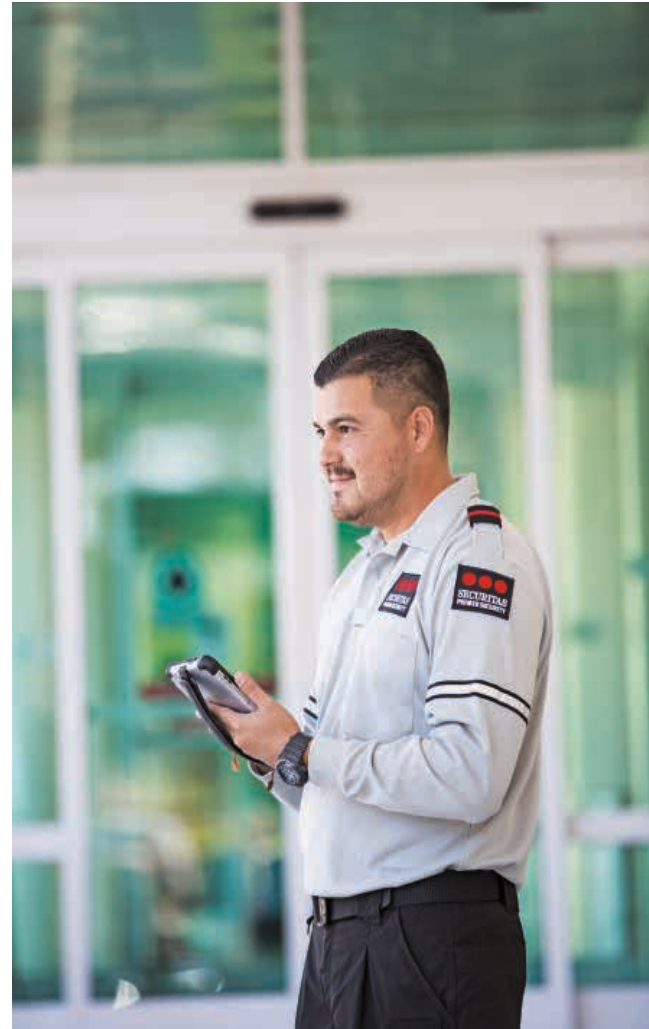

Whether you are managing a large-scale construction project that requires temporary security, or you need an emergency response to handle faulty access control equipment, security needs can arise somewhat unexpectedly. You need a security provider that can respond quickly, communicate readily, and treat you like an everyday client.

The Securitas Security Response Services (SRS)* team is the number one source for on-demand security services, providing temporary services to businesses large and small. With the largest North American footprint and dedicated administrative staff, the Security Response Services team can provide efficient security service, whenever and wherever your business needs security in North America. From short-term construction projects to sudden work stoppages, Securitas has you covered.

We provide security response services for a variety of situations and site types.

These include:

- Retail stores
- Bank branches and ATMs
- Warehouses
- Construction projects
- High rise buildings
- Special events at hotels and entertainment venues
- Damaged buildings after natural disasters
- Truck terminals
- Alarm failures
- Medical treatment and care facilities
- Petrochemical/chemical pipelines and storage areas
- Parking lots
- Layoffs, terminations or work stoppages

North American footprint with a customized approach

Our large footprint allows Securitas to provide temporary security resources to all types of businesses in the United States, including Puerto Rico and Canada.

Working with all Securitas specialized divisions, we leverage our vast network to quickly and efficiently accommodate a variety of on-demand security needs.

As soon as you call the National Communications Center, you will work with a representative from the Security Response Services team to coordinate your requests. We can customize a service package tailored to handle the various types of temporary security needs that may arise for your business.

Securitas can offer the following services:

On-site Guarding - Provides uniformed guards that perform a variety of duties to help maintain a secure environment, and who treat your employees and visitors with courtesy and respect. As the knowledge leader in providing security services, we have developed a national resource of security experts and well-trained security officers to provide you with the security workforce you require, when you need it.

Mobile Guarding - Provides highly trained, Mobile officers utilizing highly visible and marked patrol vehicles to respond to and inspect your property as predetermined.

Remote Guarding - Provides remote monitoring and response to incidents in real-time by using video cameras, video analytics, monitoring centers, and security officers to manage your site's security. We can work with your existing camera system or help install a new system.

National Communications Center: promptly delivering security, 24/7

Securitas recognizes the need for on demand security services, whether in response to a sudden emergency or a planned short-term service request. Our Security Response Services (SRS) team is supported by a unique web and voice-based service that is available to all markets and company sizes.

The Securitas National Communications Center (NCC), with its state-of-the-art telephone and LAN technologies, can provide around-the-clock direct coordination with, on duty security management, supervisors and security officers to get you the security, when you need it.

The NCC National Account Coordinators form a team solely dedicated to managing service requests from clients requesting temporary services.

The National Account Coordinators are on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week to assist with requests by using the following system:

- Promptly acknowledging your request and documenting the service needed
- Contacting appropriate Management Team to request service and brief them on requirements
- Providing an estimated time of arrival for personnel to your service location
- Confirm service order with client, the security management team and the SRS team
- Informing you of any extenuating circumstances that may impact service

Securitas security personnel are trained to respond appropriately to security incidents, alarms and emergencies.

You will be provided with uniformed security officers who will:

- Fulfill the duties required of a post under diverse working conditions
- Communicate directly with designated client contact
- Perform their job with professionalism and respect for your business

Benefits of Security Response Services:

- Easy to use online ordering system, available when you need it
- Single Point of Contact to manage your service request
- Dedicated National Account Coordinators who become familiar with your account
- A footprint that spans the US, Puerto Rico and Canada
- Documentation and reporting on the services provided along with financial information
- Vast experience in the security management industry
- One toll-free number that only handles response service requests.

* The Securitas Security Response Services team will be comprised of employees from Securitas USA or Securitas Canada, wherever the service is needed.

Our Commitment

Securitas is committed to providing temporary security services to clients and to helping protect your people and assets. We take pride in being able to promptly deliver services more efficiently than other vendors.

For more information about Securitas, visit www.securitasinc.com