

Mobile Guarding Alarm Response

When you rely on Mobile Guarding to monitor your alarm systems, you know the first response will always be the correct response.

False alarms can put stress on any security system and cost you needless time, expense and goodwill. With Securitas USA Mobile Guarding in place, alarms are monitored and thoroughly vetted before any emergency personnel are dispatched. Should there be an actual emergency, you can rest easy knowing that both the off-site monitoring personnel and your Mobile officer are highly trained professionals, able to respond to any sort of security breach, threat or concern.

Advances in technology mean that our off-site monitoring stations can keep your perimeter and facility under constant watch. Each center is staffed with specially trained officers with the tools needed to quickly take appropriate action, such as repositioning cameras, making announcements over loudspeakers or summoning the appropriate emergency providers. This combination of services offers you a comprehensive security solution that fits your needs as well as your budget.

Advantages of Mobile Guarding Alarm Response:

- In the case of a legitimate breach or threat, Securitas USA officers will call in the right response, whether Mobile officer, law enforcement or other emergency personnel
- Remote surveillance allows officers at our off-site monitoring centers to identify and deactivate false alarms instantly. This saves you money on false alarm fees and helps maintain an excellent relationship with local responders.
- Advances in video analytics enable us to calibrate cameras to recognize triggers and alert us of these potential issues before they become a problem.
- Real-time reporting instantly alerts you to any security issues.

How Mobile Guarding Alarm Response Works:

- Securitas USA professionals perform a detailed security analysis and work with you to create a security protocol based on a custom-tailored combination of state-of-the-art technology, round-the-clock monitoring and regularly scheduled inspections at random intervals.
- Our experts can install, program and monitor any needed equipment to help protect your perimeter and facility, or utilize your existing surveillance system.
- Highly trained Securitas USA officers are posted at remote monitoring centers and respond promptly to any security breach or threat.
